

The Transportation Research Group (TRG) has a record of research spanning some 30 years supported by a team of 30 staff from a range of disciplines including: Intelligent Transport Systems (ITS); Integrated Transport Management; Driver Behaviour; Public Transport Priority; Driver Information and Route Choice; Traffic Safety; Freight; Traffic Management; Teleservices; Traveller Information; Managing Demand; and Planning and Policy. Many of the projects are collaborative with partners from industry and government both in the UK and overseas.

www.trg.soton.ac.uk

Dr Tom Cherrett, Lecturer, said:

“We were interested in modelling some complex local authority domestic refuse collection rounds. DPS were very accommodating and worked closely with us to test and adapt LogiX to function in this new area.”